SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO. 25X1X 3X

1. The Celje auxiliary airfield is located at a distance of three kilometers southwest of Celje. The flight field is hard, and weather conditions permitting, it is good for take-offs and landings. Rains however, will flood it, and the water, if rainy weather lasts, will at times reach a height of from 10 to 15 centimeters. Flying in this event is out of the question.
2. An explanation of the attached sketch of the Celje airfield is as follows:
 - 1) Airplane parking area
 - 2) Flight course
Stores and munitions
 - 4) Fuel (gasoline) and lubricant stores.

This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1978 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Archivist of the United States.
